THIRTY-SIX PERSONS PERISH

Scores of People Are Missing and Their Fate Is as Yet Unknown.
Floods Wash Out Railway Tracks, Sweep Away Bridges and Undermine Buildings—Damage Is Estimated at About a Million and a Half.Pittsburg, Sept. 3.—As a result of terrible rains throughout West Virginia, Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio thirty-six are dead and scores missing.At all points the storm is over.
People in the various towns are attempting to take care of conditions caused by the flood, but are making little progress. Help is on the way and has arrived at some points, but the actual extent of the disaster cannot be estimated.From meager reports it is believed the monetary damage will reach close to $1,500,000.After a twenty-four hour period of excessively hot weather the storm broke. In addition to an extraordinary rainfall the electrical features were most spectacular. The steady rain caused every stream to leave its banks. Within a short time the water had washed away railroad tracks in many places and sent tons of earth from surrounding hills, making all thoroughfares in the flood zone impassable.Latest reports from the various districts give the following table of fatalities:Colliers, W. Va., eighteen dead.
Cherry Valley, Pa., six drowned.
Burgessstown, Pa., four drowned.
Avella, Pa., three drowned.
Canonsburg, Pa., three drowned.
Woodbury, Pa., one dead.
Nearby suburbs suffered severely, cellars being flooded, street cars crippled and wire service prostrated. In a number of Western Pennsylvania points people became panic stricken.
At Ford City, Pa., a dozen houses were washed from their foundations.
Lightning struck a score of houses, while McGrahn, a suburb, is under from three to five feet of water.

Cloudburst Devastates Valley.

At Colliers, W. Va., a cloudburst devastated the valley in which the town is situated. Harmons creek overflowing its banks. The entire valley was deluged by the water, houses swept from foundations, railroad tracks torn up for long stretches and roads were eradicated by landslides.Debris floated down the creek, piling high at Holiday's Cove, and a score of houses were washed away by the gorge.The tracks of the Pan Handle railroad for fourteen miles, between Bur-gettstown and New Cumberland Junction, were carried from the roadbed. The road crosses the creek here five times and all the bridges were wrecked, while the roadway was undermined. At many places in that territory railroad tracks were so badly crippled that it is not hoped to resume operations for a week.At Washington, Pa., the storm was especially severe. All through that part of the state manufacturing plants were put out of commission and many homes were wrecked.Flood conditions at Cherry Valley are serious. Forces of men are working to clear up the wreckage and others are on the way to the scene from surrounding towns. Telegraph wires are down and only meager telephone service is to be had. It is known that stretches of country for ten and twelve miles at various places are completely washed over.Canonsburg is under three feet of water and three persons are dead.
Business houses are flooded and streets washed away. Many houses, undermined by water, collapsed. A spectacular feature was the wrecking of a large department store. The water seemed to push the foundations together like a jackknife and the building dropped with a thud.

TRAIN FALLS INTO CREEK

Three Persons Are Killed and Eleven Injured.Camp Douglas, Wis., Sept. 3.—Three men were killed and eight passengers and three railroad men injured when passenger train No. 10 on the Omaha road crashed into Lemon creek, between Camp Douglas and Hustler, after a wall of water which came down the creek following a cloudburst washed out the approach of a steel girder bridge. One of the injured was a Minneapolis man and another was from Idena, Minn. The dead are:
George I. Thompson, Altoona, Wis., engineer.Heat Kills Three in Cincinnati.
Cincinnati, Sept. 3.—The excessive heat in which Cincinnati sweltered was the cause of three deaths and a dozen prostrations. Henry Lautenschlager, aged thirty-two, and James Dalton, aged fifty, both of Cincinnati, and an unidentified white man were the victims.BOURNE REPLIES

SOUGHT TO PREVENT PANIC

Lawmaker Expresses Surprise at Colonel Using His Name in Standard Oil Controversy and Says He Made an Effort to Bring About a Settlement Between the Giant Octopus and the Government.Washington, Sept. 3.—United States Senator Jonathan Bourne of Oregon replied to Colonel Roosevelt's statement that he and former Congressman Sibley of Pennsylvania were the only legislators who ever called at the White House during his administration in regard to Standard Oil."I must confess surprise at Colonel Roosevelt's dragging my name into the controversy he is now having with Standard Oil representatives and others," said Senator Bourne. "I fail to see how my effort to bring about a settlement between the government and the Standard Oil company in 1908 has any bearing upon the present political situation."The senator, explaining that in 1908 he did endeavor to settle differences between the government and Standard Oil, declared that he did so "believ-
continuance of a panic started in 1907 and that the government could secure much better terms by a settlement than through the court."Senator Bourne further declared that he told Colonel Roosevelt he thought the time opportune to make a settlement with the Standard Oil company and to secure its co-operation in getting a federal incorporation law, "that would provide a harbor of refuge for honest business with the government the harbor master and the penitentiary for the dishonest business man."

Archbold Favored Compromise.

"about any settlement favorable to
Standard Oil company. Entirely on my own volition and without Colonel Roosevelt's knowledge I went to New York and sought an interview with Mr. Archbold. I explained to him the advantages of a federal incorporation law. Mr. Archbold expressed himself
government and favored a stringent federal incorporation law."Following this the senator said several conferences were held with the representatives of the department of Justice."In my opinion," he continued, "the government would have been much better off had one been made rather than the final decision of the supreme court. I wish to state that I had no personal interest in the matter other than a desire to minimize the panic
and secure the support of big business interests for a virile federal incorporation law.""I have never had any interest in any of the Standard Oil companies. I have known Mr. Archbold and his family for several years and have visited his house. Neither he nor any of his associates has ever talked to me about any congressional or state legislation other than my talks with him on a federal incorporation law and the popular government funda-mentals."

Outgenerals and Outfights Rivers at Los Angeles.Los Angeles, Sept. 3.—Outgeneraled and outfought in nearly every round by Joe Mandot of New Orleans, Joe Rivers, the Los Angeles lightweight, lost the decision to the visitor at the end of their twenty-round bout in the Vernon arena.The Mexican claimant to the highest honors in the lightweight class was a mere novice in the hands of the clever Southerner, although he outweighed Mandot two pounds when they entered the ring. Rivers weighed in at 133 and Mandot at 131. Rivers made a much poorer showing than he did against Ad Wolgast on July 4. He appeared slow and showed to advantage only in the fighting. In the closing rounds Mandot even outfought him in the clinches.

GENERAL MILES.

Declares Roosevelt the Most

Retired Army Officer Denounces Progressive Candidate.New York, Sept. 3.—The Republican national committee sent out a statement signed by Major General Nelson A. Miles, retired, in which General Miles calls Colonel Roosevelt
"the most colossal fraud that this country has ever produced."General Miles finds in the present campaign a question whether the old time institutions shall be preserved or whether they shall be replaced by
"visionary theories, impracticable ideas, and the concentration of all political power with the control of all public and private interests, at the national capital. This for gratification of the mad, selfish ambition of one man who for years has been aspiring and intriguing to become a dictator."WILSON IS MAKING
Progressive Platform.Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 3.—Governor Woodrow Wilson struck up a vigorous campaign call. He whirled through the city in an automobile, delivered
Democrat among the Western New
time warm sympathy for the social
platform, but dissented emphatically from the program by which they might be carried out.It was by far his most extended utterance of the campaign upon the
and the crowds which gathered to hear him showed their approval of the governor's argument by frequent applause.From the moment the governor arrived his reception was practically
Rain did not prevent a big crowd from thronging the streets on the way
Norman E. Mack, former national chairman, had arranged a citizens' reception.

Sixteenth Round.San Francisco, Sept. 3.—Putting a cyclonic finish to a cautious, well judged early pace, Jim Flynn of Pueblo was declared the winner of his battle with Charlie Miller at Colma when the big San Franciscan refused to leave his corner and toe the scratch for the sixteenth round.Miller gamely stayed through the fifteenth round, but, claiming that two of his ribs had been fractured and that he was barely able to walk, he ignored the beckoning gong for the sixteenth. Miller's condition was plainly such that he could not continue.With the exception of some of the earlier rounds Flynn outfought his former sparring partner and administered a severe beating to the cham-
more than once.

BILLION DOLLAR SESSION.

Dignity of the Senate Outraged on the Closing Day by a Woman Who Waved
a Fan Upon Which Was a Bold Ad-
Is Created For Measures.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Sept. 3.—[Special.]—
The hard death of the second session of the Sixty-second congress proved an anomalous condition in our government. Speaker Champ Clark indorsed the statement of Minority Leader Mann that it would have been better for this country if we had a responsible government as in England. Then we would not have the curious condition presented which confronts us every time the people become dissatisfied with the party in power.The present congress shows the incongruous condition when we have a Democratic house, a mongrel senate and a Republican president. The house is bent upon making Democratic political capital; the different factions in the senate are endeavoring to make their views popular; the Republican president has been striving to preserve the traditions of his party as interpreted by the party managers.

number of men pointing to each other with the statement, "You're to blame."
That is the way it was with this congress. The Democrats say they could have accomplished great things if the senate and the president had permitted them full sway. The Progressives say that they could have cured many ills if the Democrats, the regulars and the president had given the opportunity.The president points out what he might have accomplished if the Democrats and Progressives had not stood in his way. You can hear the claims and take your choice. Probably the best way to size it up is that the several parties were playing politics this presidential year.

What About Those Letters?

Have you written or received letters from Archbold? That is a question which may well agitate the public men of this country who have been in rather close touch with those big business interests which interested themselves to quite an extent in congressional legislation. That Penrose dragnet resolution may bring out a lot of correspondence of one kind or another, and if it doesn't Mr. Hearst, who seems to be well supplied with Archbold correspondence, may bring out some unexpected letters from time to time. There is a suspicion that others besides those who have been "caught" with Standard Oil money may become involved in the coming investigation.

Again the Same Old "If."

If it had not been for the increase of pensions, if it had not been for the increase for rivers and harbors, if it had
service, the last session of congress would have been able to make more of
the previous appropriations. But the trouble was that these increases were made and the present session was a billion dollar session, just as those which have gone before.

On the day congress adjourned an outrage was perpetrated in the senate.
It would have been resented no doubt if it had not been for the fact that nearly every senator was afraid that another eruption might have prevented adjournment. This outrage upon the dignity of the senate was perpetrated by a woman who took a front seat in
large palm leaf fan upon which was an advertisement which could be read across the chamber.

Creating Public Sentiment.

Senator Page of Vermont was very frank in taking the senate into his confidence in regard to the agricultural education bill. "If you will pass this bill through the senate," he said, "I will go home and devote my summer to getting leading educators of the country to try to influence members of the other house in its favor.""I am afraid the senator is a little too frank in stating his purpose," remarked Senator Stone of Missouri. "Am I
to understand that the many letters we
been written under the persuasive influence of the senator? We are all getting hundreds of letters from our constituents in its favor."It appeared to be another case of worked up sentiment.

Little Chance For the Indian.

Senator Catron was telling the senate
how useless it would be to move a band of Indians to New Mexico, saying they could get no lands with water. "When I say that I speak from personal knowledge," said Catron. "My colleague, Senator Fall, and I happen to be personally interested in the land and water immediately west of the reserva-
in a low tone for the benefit of a small

DIPLOMATS IN CUBA MEET

Plan to Protect Themselves—Press
Continues to Flay Gibson.Havana, Sept. 3.—A meeting of all the representatives here of foreign governments was held at the Uruguayan legation to consider the question of protection of foreign diplomats. No action was taken, however, and the
press against Hugh S. Gibson, American charge d'affaires, who was assaulted last week by Enrique Maza, a newspaper reporter, has greatly moderated; with the exception of El Siglo, which continues to pour out torrents of insults upon Mr. Gibson and United States Minister Baupre.The Reconcentrado, one of the worst offenders in this respect, did not publish. Its failure to appear is believed to have been due to action by the Cuban government, but the nature of this action has not been revealed.CREW AND FIREMEN HAVE CLOSE CALLBurning Steamer Sinks in Baltimore Harbor.Baltimore, Sept. 3.—After an outbreak of fire, which swept rapidly through her hold, the steamer Nantucket of the Merchants and Miners' Transportation company turned over
and sank to the bottom of the Baltimore harbor.Firemen and members of the crew who had been fighting the flames from the deck of the ship narrowly escaped
masts, stanchions and parts of the rigging as the plunge was made.
All of the men, about forty in number, were rescued by fire and police boats.

OIL KING IS IN DANGER

John D. Rockefeller Said to Have Been Threatened.New York, Sept. 3.—The large force of armed guards which has been stationed around the John D. Rockefeller estate at Pocantico Hills, near Tarrytown, for the last two weeks, was established because of death threats re-
members of his family, according to the World.There have been numerous disorders among foreigners employed on the
the main reason for the precautions which Mr. Rockefeller has taken.
Eighteen negroes, deputy sheriffs and a squad of detectives, all armed, constitute the guard.According to the World Mr. Rockefeller and his son have received a number of letters threatening both their lives and property and demanding heavy ransom. Threats to kidnap John D. Rockefeller, Jr.'s two young children, who are ill with measles at a nursery on the estate, also have been made, it is said.

Damage Done.Chicago, Sept. 3.—To the accompaniment of a lively electrical display rain descended in torrents and broke the hot spell.During the storm the fire alarm of the city hall was repeatedly notified that houses in different parts of the city had been struck by lightning.
Two alarms of fire were sounded in the downtown district. There were forty fires in all caused by lightning.It is estimated that $100,000 damage was caused by the fires and rainwater.
Miss Cecelia Halford, twenty-one years old, was playing the piano in her home on the West Side when the instrument was struck by lightning.
Miss Halford fell to the floor unconscious, with a severe burn on the bottom of her right foot. The piano was partly destroyed and the house set

COLONEL BEGINS LONG TOUR

Roosevelt's Present Trip Will Cover
a Month.Albany, N. Y., Sept. 3.—Theodore Roosevelt struck out on the trail of the bandanna handkerchief to follow
trip took him into Connecticut and Massachusetts. Then he turned toward the West. He was greeted at every stop by large crowds.Colonel Roosevelt discussed Socialism, one of Woodrow Wilson's speeches, the tariff, the Democrats and the weather. He spoke feelingly of the weather, for he made some of his speeches standing bareheaded in the rain.

West Virginia Miners Driven Off by Militiamen.Charleston, W. Va., Sept. 3.—Striking miners tore up the railroad tracks along Elkdale on Cabin creek in an effort to stop the shipment of coal from the mines at the upper end of the creek that are operating. A company of militia was sent to the scene and, after driving the strikers off, the soldiers set about repairing the tracks.While this work was going on the strikers attacked the roadbed several miles away and another company was sent after them.

Will Claim "An Eye for an Eye and a Tooth for a Tooth."El Paso, Tex., Sept. 3.—General Inez Salazar, rebel commander, operating southwest of Juarez, has issued a proclamation filled with incendiary words against the American government. He charges that, in view of the American interference in Mexican affairs, he will claim "an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth."

Men and Children First.

The Chinese point of view of maritime disasters is peculiar. The duty of a Chinese sailor is well defined. He must save the men first, then the children and finally the women. This is on the theory that men are most valuable to the state, that adoptive parents can be found for children and that women without husbands are destitute.

Official Announcement of England's Intention Is Brief and the Con-
Act of Congress That the International Court Will Be Asked to Pass Upon.London, Sept. 3.—It is officially announced that the British government will make a formal demand upon the United States government for arbitration of its claims that the Panama canal toll act, as passed recently by the United States congress, violates the Hay-Pauncefote treaty.Nothing definitely is known here beyond the brief official announcement
instructions already are en route to the British embassy at Washington, concerning the situation.The British demand will be made under the arbitration convention of
be that the issue does not affect the vital interests, independence or honor of the United States and that therefore it is clearly within the scope of the 1908 convention, since the matter to be arbitrated is not an act of congress, but an interpretation of article 3 of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty.

gettstown and New Cumberland Junction, were carried from the roadbed.
The road crosses the creek here five
ing to clear up the wreckage and others are on the way to the scene from
ing dropped with a thud.

Jena, Minn. The dead are:

Controversy and Says He Made an Effort to Bring About a Settlement
Standard Oil representatives and others," said Senator Bourne. "I fail to see how my effort to bring about a settlement between the government and the Standard Oil company in 1908
has any bearing upon the present po-
company and to secure its co-operation in getting a federal incorporation law, "that would provide a harbor or

Archbold Favored Compromise.

my own volition and without Colonel
Mr. Archbold. I explained to him the
interests for a virile federal incorporation law.""I have never had any interest in

Outgenerals and Outfits Rivers at Los Angeles.Los Angeles, Sept. 3.—Outgen-eral and outfitted in nearly every
did against Al Volga on July 4. He
tage only in the infighting. In the
him in the clinches.

man who for years has been aspiring and intriguing to become a dictator."WILSON IS MAKING
campaign gait. He whirled through
chairman, had arranged a citizens' reception.

cyclopic finish to a cautious, well
more than once.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

ment. Speaker Champ Clark endorsed
the traditions of his party as interpreted by the party managers.

time. There is a suspicion that others besides those who have been

pensions, if it had not been for the in-
which have gone before.

outrage was perpetrated in the senate.
across the chamber.

home and devote my summer to getting leading educators of the country to try to influence members of the other house
worked up sentiment.

I say that I speak from personal knowledge," said Catron. "My colleague, Senator Hall, and I happen to be per-
group near him.

newspaper reporter, has greatly moder-
States Minister Beaupre.The Reconcentrado, one of the worst

rigging as the plume was made.All of the men, about forty in num-

which Mr. Rockefeller has taken. Eighteen negroes, deputy sheriffs and a squad of detectives, all armed, constitute the guard.According to the World Mr. Rocke-

Damage Done.Chicago, Sept. 3.—To the accompani-
partly destroyed and the house set

the rain.

ing miners tore up the railroad tracks about Elkdale on Cabin creek in an
soldiers set about repairing the tracks.
While this work was going on the

eye and a tooth for a tooth."Men and Children First.
uable to the state, that adoptive parents can be found for children and
titute.

Intention Is Brief and the Con-
Upon.London, Sept. 3.—It is officially announced that the British government
United States government for arbitra-
the British embassy at Washington,
fore it is clearly within the scope of the 1908 convention, since the matter

Crow Wing county's exhibit at the state fair shows up well and will be an advertisement well worth the energy expended in placing it where thousands of people from different parts of the country will see and comment on our resources.

Woodrow Wilson is the candidate of the free trade democratic party and if elected to the presidency he will be with his party to the last ditch. Men who support Wilson support the policies of the democratic party and this fact should not be lost sight of.

P. H. McGarry is a candidate for speaker of the house of representatives, and he is also a candidate for the legislature from the Cass county district. That feels so sure of his election that he has no hesitancy in making his candidacy for the speakership in advance.

The people are being prepared for the candidacy of J. F. Jacobson for governor by papers of the twin cities. If so it will be as an independent progressive and his name will go on the ticket by petition. "Let the people rule" is the motto adopted, but in Minnesota the progressive element is willing to let the people rule provided they can dictate what that ruling shall be. The Roosevelt party are willing to go into the primaries and if the men they favor are successful all right and good, if not then use independent by petition for them.

The rural letter carriers of the country on standard routes have had their salaries advanced by the government from $1,000 to $1,100 a year, thus affecting 30,000 men with proportionate increases to carriers on shorter routes. The order will become effective Sept. 30. This will mean an increased disbursement of $4,000,000 a year. It is the second salary advance for rural carriers made in the last four years. At the close of the last fiscal year on June 30, there were 42,031 rural mail carriers, the aggregate pay being $40,655,740. The increase provides rural carriers adequate compensation for additional burdens to be imposed by the parcels post system, effective January 1.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh of the middle ear) which cannot be cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. When the tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be lost forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. JAVA'S ISLAND OF FIRE.

It is Really a Lake of Boiling, Bubbling Mud and Slime.

The greatest natural wonder in Java, if not in the entire world, is the justly celebrated "Gheko Kamdka Gumko," or "Home of the Hot Devils," known to the world as the Island of Fire. This geological singularity is really a lake of boiling mud situated at about the center of the plains of Grobogan and is called an island because the great emerald sea of vegetation which surrounds it gives it that appearance.

The "island" is about two miles in circumference and is situated at a distance of almost exactly fifty miles from Solo. Near the center of this geological freak immense columns of soft, hot mud may be seen continually rising and falling like great timbers thrust through the boiling substratum by giant hands and then again quickly withdrawn. Besides the phenomenon of the boiling mud columns there are scores of gigantic bubbles of hot lime that fill up like huge balloons and keep up a series of constant explosions, the intensity of the detonations varying with the size of the bubble.

In time past, so the Javanese authorities say, there was a tall spirelike column of baked mud on the west edge of the lake which constantly belched a pure stream of cold water, but this has long been obliterated, and everything is now a seething mass of bubbling mud and slime.

GOLD MEDAL CONTEST

Held Under the Auspices of the W. C. T. U. at the German Evangelical Church

Under the auspices of the Women's Christian Temperance Union a gold medal contest was held in the German Evangelical church on Friday evening, August 30, which was pronounced to be the best one ever held in Brainerd, thus reflecting much credit on those who trained the contestants.

The medal was awarded Miss Mamie Thayer on the recitation, "The Bridal Wine Cup." The medal was awarded by Rev. Zabel with a few appropriate remarks. He also favored the audience with a fine solo. Several duets were rendered by Rev. Davis, Mr. Christie, and Mr. Bye and Miss Fogelstrom. All of the music was exceptionally good. Among those from out of town were Mrs. A. R. Holman and daughter and Miss Nettie Johnson of Pequot, Mrs. Holman, the district president, gave an interesting talk on the origin and growth of the organization, both state and national. The beautiful floral decorations and the free use of the church were greatly appreciated by the members.

The Alimentary Canal.

A Frenchman who has made an examination of the food canal in mammals has measured the length of it in 280 specimens that belong to thirty species. He has found that the ratio between the length of the canal and the length of the body is smallest in the carnivorous animals, larger in those that are called omnivorous and largest in the vegetarians. In other words, the length of the food tract seems to vary with the digestibility of the kinds of food that are consumed. The rule holds true in birds as well as in animals. In man the alimentary canal is about thirty feet long, usually from five to six times the length of the body.

WHEN A LAXATIVE IS NEEDED, 'CASCARETS'

Salts, Calomel and Cathartic Pills Are Violent—They Act on Bowels as Pepper Acts in Nostrils

Take a Cascaret tonight and thoroughly cleanse your liver, stomach and bowels, and you will surely feel great by morning. You men and women who have headache, coated tongue, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have backache and feel all worn out.

Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels.

Remember, a Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning. A 10-cent box from your druggist means healthy bowel action; a clear head and cheerfulness for months. Don't forget the children.

Crow Wing county's exhibit at the state fair shows up well and will be an advertisement well worth the energy expended in placing it where thousands of people from different parts of the country will see and comment on our resources.

Woodrow Wilson is the candidate of the free trade democratic party and if elected to the presidency he will be with his party to the last ditch. Men who support Wilson support the policies of the democratic party and this fact should not be lost sight of.

The people are being prepared for the candidacy of J. F. Jacobson for governor by papers of the twin cities. If so it will be as an independent progressive and his name will go on the ticket by petition. "Let the people rule" is the motto adopted, but in Minnesota the progressive element is willing to let the people rule provided they can dictate what that ruling shall be. The Roosevelt party are willing to go into the primaries and if the men they favor are successful, all right and good, if not then use independent by petition for them.

LABOR DAY WAS CELEBRATED

ade in the Morning; Addresses at Gregory Park by Three Speakers

RODUCED BY MAYOR DUNN

gram of Sports at the Park in Afternoon, Dance in the Evening at Gardner Hall labor Day was appropriately celebrated Monday by a parade which reached through the principal streets and disbanded at Gregory park where addresses were delivered by Rev. Charles Fox Davis, Alderman Lockwood, of Kalamazoo, Mich., Attorney W. W. Barron, each speaker being introduced by Mayor P. Dunn. After the speaking program was a program of sports and a day concluded with a dance at Gardner hall, where the music was furnished by the Blue Ribbon orchestra.

The day's celebration was in charge of the local Trades & Labor assembly and the committees appointed for the purpose. The parade assembled at the East Brainerd bridge at nine o'clock in the morning and those marching included Marshal J. W. Welch, the mounted police led by Chief Ridley, carriages with the mayor and speakers, the Trades & Labor assembly, the Iron Molders union, Machinists, the Brainerd City band, three young ladies bearing banners, the Carmen orchestra, Clerks union, auto advertising club's store, clerks in an auto, the tanners union and the Boilermakers union.

At the park Mayor Dunn, in starting the ceremonies there, stated that Labor Day was observed throughout the length and breadth of the land, paid a high tribute to labor, every man should receive more than living wage. He should have nothing left over at the end of the year. On the proper division of time estimating the working hours decided the safety and comfort of labor.

An ideal life resulted when the interests of labor and recreation were properly balanced. The hours of leisure should be long enough to enable man to become acquainted with his family, to keep in touch with their affairs, to afford them all sufficient leisure for recreation. His remarks were greeted with loud applause. Rev. Charles Fox Davis spoke on "Progress of Labor." "There is not another city the size of Brainerd which compares as favorably as one considers labor conditions. There is not an idle man in Brainerd. We are all toilers, whether we work mentally or manually. The only idle people in Brainerd are those whom the hand of time has laid aside." He arraigned the rich, who they merely consumed and never produced anything. They are a parasite on the body politic.

"It is not proper for any speaker to use this platform to further the aims of any political party or to use it as a point from which to hurl satire or sarcasm, or political anathemas into the hearts of an audience. There are different opinions politically relative to solving the questions of the people, but this is not the place and the day to discuss them." He referred to the unfortunate case in Minneapolis where the ranks of labor were depleted because of strong political partisanship.

Alderman Lockwood of Kalamazoo, Mich. spoke on "Five Questions Worth While." Using his hand as an illustration he divided his discourse into five sections, food, clothing, housing, education and amusement, and until these questions were satisfactorily settled, said he, there could be no material progress by the race. Until the question of three square meals a day was settled for all the people, no other question was worth while. 96 per cent of the people of New York city did not own their homes. Eight children out of a 100 received a high school education. There were no rich men in Brainerd. "The master class," said the speaker, "is in Wall street." Mr. Lockwood then traced the course of history from the earliest stages considered from an economic basis.

W. W. Barron spoke on representative government. He appeared as the representative of no political party. He was no socialist and did not pretend to be one. "But you must give credit to the socialists for their agitation, for they have made us all think." If the men who represented us in governmental affairs would do their duty properly this would be an ideal government. But there was graft in the senate, said Mr. Barron. Men exposed as representing great corporations did not go to congress to represent the people who had elected them. The remedy for this state of affairs was a certain individual responsibility. On election day one should not allow his decision to be swayed by personal feelings or politics. He should vote for the best man.

The results of the program of sports were as follows:

100 yard dash, George Day $5, Walter Koop and H. A. Swanson tied for second, each $3.
Egg and spoon race, Katie Dugan first $3, Vivian McPherson second $2, Emma Blunt third $1.

Fans Agree it Was One of the Best Games Ever Seen on the Local Field

Royalton 2, Brainerd 1, the score tells the story of one of the fastest league games ever played in Brainerd. It marked the close Sunday of the Central Minnesota baseball association games in the city. A large crowd saw the game which was replete with thrilling situations.

Leahy, who was balled to pitch on Labor Day, held down right field. Cook was on the mound and pitched a game which would have won nine times out of ten. Dretchko was on the slab for Royalton, striking out four men, just one more than Cook.

Brainerd's only score came in the second inning when Leahy rapped on the nose the first ball pitched to him by Dretchko, making a safe hit which scored Templeton. Brainerd held this lead until the sixth inning when L. McGonagle tied the score. Templeton's error giving the Royalton a life.

1 to 1 held good until the first half of the ninth when Kinkle crossed the plate with the winning run.

In the eighth inning Roderick was on first and two men were out when Leahy faced Dretchko. "Hit the ball and save the game" yelled the fans. Dretchko knew what kind of a hitter the man was and deliberately pitched four balls wide of the plate and walked Leahy. Rogers, the next man, hit a pop up fly into Dretchko's mit and the game was over.

Brainerd Wins the Labor Day Game From the Down River Town in a Classy Exhibition

LEAHY PITCHES FOR LOCALS

Royalton Pulls Rieger Out of the Box in Seventh and Substitutes Center Fielder Ahles

Labor Day's baseball game, if such a thing is possible, was even a classier exhibition of the national pastime than Sunday's game and it bore an added distinction of spelling victory for the Brainerd nine, the locals defeating Royalton by a 5 to 3 score.

Royalton led off with hard hitting in the first inning to bat, Krey sending a ball over the fence, but later was caught trying to steal third. Kinkel got hit in the back, walked to first and was put out trying to steal second. Ahles fanned. Larson and Callan went out on first. Roderick hit the ball over the fence for a two base hit, but died on bases when Cook flew out to Ahles.

In the second Enkhaus hit into the field and Kuhn was caught out at the plate, Shefflo making a brilliant throw to Roderick from the field. Rieger fanned the air. Bell hit to center and scored Enkhaus. R. McGonagle hit to center and Shefflo muffed the ball and Bell scored. L. McGonagle went out on first. In Brainerd's half Templeton got to first on a small drive. Leahy hit near second. Rieger got the ball, tossed it to second retiring Templeton and second threw to first putting out Leahy. Rogers died on bases when Erickson flew out to left field. Score Royalton 2, Brainerd 0.

In the third Kinkel got to first on Erickson's error and later scored. In Brainerd's half Shefflo, Larson, Callan, Roderick and Cook each found the ball, but nobody scored. Brainerd felt blue.

In the fifth Templeton made a double play unassisted when he retired Krey and Kinkle who cluttered up third base, Kinkle being chased to second by Templeton. The Royalton catcher stepped off second base and wanted to argue with the umpire and Thomas promptly tagged him. There was a ten minutes discussion of the affair while the grand stand and bleachers fumed. Ahles was put out trying to steal second. No scores for Brainerd.

Royalton was quickly retired in the sixth. When Brainerd came to bat the big inning commenced which trotted in three runs. Templeton hit near center and subsequently scored. With Leahy and Rogers out, Erickson cracked the ball. Shefflo slammed the pill and brought in Templeton. Larson's foul was nearly caught by Kinkle who fell on his ear near the grand stand. On his next chance at the ball Larson rapped it into left field and scored Erickson. Callan was put out at first. Brainerd 4, Royalton 3.

In the seventh Erickson scooped in Bell's grounder and threw to first retiring him. The McGonagle brothers flew out to Erickson and altogether it was Erickson's inning. Royalton changed pitchers, taking out Riegers and substituting Ahles, the center fielder. Ahles is not a regular pitcher, but nevertheless he did remarkably well. He struck out Roderick. Leahy's hit bounded over the shortstop's head and scored Templeton.

Nothing doing for Royalton in the eighth. Brainerd got three men on bases, but they died when Cook's fly was raked in by Bell who took a run and jump at the ball and landed it. Royalton tried hard to do something in the ninth but no one scored.

was assisted in the ceremony by Mrs. Chas. G. Osterlund, who was attired in a navy blue traveling suit. Mr. Chas. G. Osterlund was best man for Mr. Lundbohm, the groom being attired in a suit of conventional black.

After a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. George Ridley, they started in an automobile for the twin cities to be gone a week, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Chas. G. Osterlund, the young couple being home to their friends next week.

The bride, until recently, was one of the popular young ladies of Crossby, and the groom was formerly drug-gist there and well and favorably known also. They will make their home at Ironton at which place Mr. Lundbohm runs a drug store. Quite a little humor was aroused just before the ceremony by the groom, when asked by the officiating clergyman for the marriage license, handed out the newly acquired hunting license, quite seriously, he having secured both this morning and not taking time to identify one from the other before the event.

The Dispatcher joins with their many friends in wishing for them a most happy future.

Roxberg-Fryklind At eight o'clock Saturday evening, August 31, at the home of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Erickson of Oak Lawn township, occurred the marriage of Miss Jennie Fryklind and Mr. Arvid E. Roxberg.

The beautiful ring service was read by Rev. C. W. Boquist, pastor of the Swedish Mission church of Brainerd. The couple were attended by Miss Alvina Klara Roxberg, and Mr. Carl J. Fryklind. The bride was gown in white marquisette over silk and carried a bouquet of bride's roses. The rooms were beautifully decorated with evergreens and flowers. A dainty wedding supper was served to about thirty guests, being the nearest relatives of the bride and groom. Many pretty and useful gifts were received by them.

They left for a short wedding trip after which they will make their home for some time with the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Erickson. The Dispatch joins their host of friends in wishing them all possible happiness and prosperity.

Labor Day's baseball game, if such a thing is possible, was even a classier exhibition of the national pastime than Sunday's game and it bore an added distinction of spelling victory for the Brainerd nine, the locals defeating Royalton by a 5 to 3 score.

In the second Enkhaus hit into the field and Kuhn was caught out at the plate, Sheffield making a brilliant throw to Roderick from the field. Rieger fanned the air. Bell hit to center and scored Enkhaus. R. McGonagle hit to center and Sheffield muffed the ball and Bell scored. L. McGonagle went out on first. In Brainerd's half Templeton got to first on a small drive. Leahy hit near second. Rieger got the ball, tossed it to second retiring Templeton and second threw to first putting out Leahy. Rogers died on bases when Erickson flew out to left field. Score Royalton 2, Brainerd 0.

In the third Kinkel got to first on Erickson's error and later scored. In Brainerd's half Sheffield, Larson, Callan, Roderick and Cook each found the ball, but nobody scored. Brainerd felt blue.

No scores for Royalton in the fourth. Templeton knocked the ball over the fence for a two base hit and Roger's safe drive over second scored Tommy.

In the fifth Templeton made a double play unassisted when he retired Krey and Kinkle who cluttered up third base, Kinkle being chased to second by Templeton. The Royalton catcher stepped off second base and wanted to argue with the umpire and Thomas promptly tagged him. There was a ten minutes discussion of the affair while the grand stand and bleachers fumed. Ahles was put out trying to steal second. No scores for Brainerd.

Royalton was quickly retired in the sixth. When Brainerd came to bat the big inning commenced which trotted in three runs. Templeton hit near center and subsequently scored. With Leahy and Rogers out, Erickson cracked the ball. Sheffield slammed the pill and brought in Templeton. Larson's foul was nearly caught by Kinkle who fell on his ear near the grand stand. On his next chance at the ball Larson rapped it into left field and scored Erickson. Callan was put out at first. Brainerd 4, Royalton 3.

In the seventh Erickson scooped in Bell's grounder and threw to first retiring him. The McGonagle brothers flew out to Erickson and altogether it was Erickson's inning. Royalton changed pitchers, taking out Rieger and substituting Ahles, the center fielder. Ahles is not a regular pitcher, but nevertheless he did remarkably well. He struck out Roderick. Leahy's hit bounded over the shortstop's head and scored Templeton.

Nothing doing for Royalton in the eighth. Brainerd got three men on bases, but they died when Cook's fly was raked in by Bell who took a run and jump at the ball and landed it. Royalton tried hard to do something in the ninth but no one scored.

was assisted in the ceremony by Mrs. Chas. G. Osterlund, who was attired in a navy blue traveling suit. Mr. Chas. G. Osterlund was best man for Mr. Lundbohm, the groom being attired in a suit of conventional black.

After a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. George Ridley, they started in an automobile for the twin cities to be gone a week, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Chas. G. Osterlund, the young couple being home to their friends next week.

The bride, until recently, was one of the popular young ladies of Crosby, and the groom was formerly a druggist there and well and favorably known also. They will make their home at Ironton at which place Mr. Lundbohm runs a drug store. Quite a little humor was aroused just before the ceremony by the groom, when asked by the officiating clergyman for the marriage license, handed out the newly acquired hunting license, quite seriously, he having secured both this morning and not taking time to identify one from the other before the event.

The Dispatch joins with their many friends in wishing for them a most happy future.

The Result of Putting a Couple of Wires in Wrong Terminals.

A large number of the world's greatest inventions have been the result of some accidental union of forces, the nature of which the person who started them neither understood nor suspected. The working of dynamos at long distances apart when properly connected was discovered by accident.

A scientific journal says: "Soon after the opening of the Vienna exposition, in 1873, a careless workman picked up the ends of a couple of wires which he found trailing along the ground. He fastened them in the terminals of a dynamo, to which he thought they belonged, while they were really attached to another dynamo that was running in another part of the grounds.

"The dynamo to which he fastened the wires was not running, but as soon as the wires were placed in its terminals it revolved as if a steam engine was driving it. The workman was amazed. The engineers and electricians were astonished by the discovery that a dynamo electric machine (turned by steam power) would turn another similar machine a long distance away if properly connected to it by electric wires. Thus originated one of the most revolutionary applications of electricity."

The fact that power can be transmitted for miles by electric wires is one of the most important factors in modern civil engineering achievements.

Foiled.

The lovers whispered together before the doors of her father's hangar, planning the last details of their elopement.

"Hurry, dearest," he urged. "We will wheel out your runabout monoplane and together we'll fly away on the wings of the night, nevermore to be separated."

"Wait," she exclaimed. "I have a better plan. We will run it out and hide in the old stable; then we will walk to the trolley and papa will never suspect us."

They were hardly half a mile on their way down the road when from overhead came the roar of the triple propellers of the racing monoplane as papa dashed out into the darkness in hot pursuit.—Puck.

Madrid's Night Watchmen.

Madrid still has the medieval night watchmen. They admit late comers to the apartment houses at night, but no longer sing out the hour or the condition of the weather. They still go by the name of "sereno," which they got from the fact that, as it seldom rains in Spain, their cries about the weather generally ended with that word ("las tres y sereno").

Nilsson's Tribute to Patti.

When Christine Nilsson, the great singer, was asked her opinion of various singers she gave it very candidly of every one, including herself and Mme. Albini, but she never once alluded to Mme. Patti.

"No," said Mme. Nilsson, "I have not. You are asking about singers. I do not regard Patti as a singer. I place her among the angels. A Patti comes to a planet only once during that planet's existence." Such an absence of stage jealousy has probably never been equaled.

Minnesota State Fair and Exposition

HAMLIN

Midway between Minneapolis & St. Paul

Sept. 2-7, Inclusive

It is needless to say that the Minnesota State Fair is one of the greatest if not the greatest exhibition of its kind produced by any state in the Union. The management has set the pace where others follow, and things entirely new are to be introduced at this year's exposition. Fifty counties will exhibit; the buildings have been improved and the grounds beautified; aviation features, a modern farm kitchen, farm boys' encampment, military display, special speed features are but a few of the attractions.

It is not only your privilege, but a duty you owe your state and yourself to aid in its success by attending the fair. You will enjoy it and profit by it. Low fare round trip tickets on sale to Minneapolis, St. Paul daily, August 31 to September 6. Convenient train service—sleeping cars on night trains, parlor cars on day trains, dining cars—service to satisfy all—none better. Ask for your ticket via the

When Christine Nilsson, the great singer, was asked her opinion of various singers she gave it very candidly of every one, including herself and Mme. Albini, but she never once alluded to Mme. Patti.

"No," said Mme. Nilsson, "I have not. You are asking about singers. I do not regard Patti as a singer. I place her among the angels. A Patti comes to a planet only once during that planet's existence." Such an absence of stage jealousy has probably never been equaled.

Flying Men Fall

victims to stomach, liver and kidney troubles just like other people, with like results in loss of appetite, backache, nervousness, headache, and tired, listless, run-down feeling. But there's no need to feel like that as T. D. Peebles, Henry, Tenn., proved. "Six bottles of Electric Bitters" he writes "did more to give me new strength and good appetite than all other stomach remedies I used." So they help everybody. Its folly to suffer when this great remedy will help you from the first dose. Try it. Only 50 cents at all druggists.

The Hard Part First.

"I hear you've got a government job now," one man said to another. The other answered gayly: "That's what."

The first man gave an envious sigh and asked:

"Is it hard work?"

"Not after you get it," was the reply.

Her Possessions.

"I have two lovely little puppies," said Mrs. Tawley. "I have met your husband," replied the man. "Who is the other one?"—Exchange.

Final Decision.

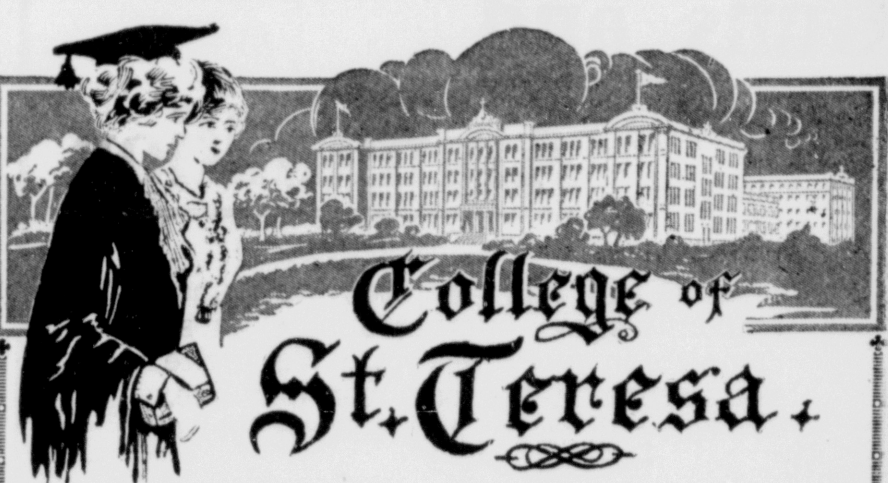

"I see that Counselor Dedbroke is courting a rich old widow." "He seems to be up against a court of last resort."—Boston Record.
